Guest Lecture on Time Management

Date: 15/12/22

EVENT DESCRIPTION

CII YI YUVA – JIMS, VK organized a guest lecture on Time Management on 15 December, 2022 at College Auditorium from 1:00 PM onwards. The guest of the event was Mr. Akarshan Srivastava, founder of "Gotezu"- L&D and Employee Engagement Company and an IIT Bombay certified teachers trainer and a subject matter expert in Human Capital Development. The event started with the introduction of Mr. Akarshan to the audience followed by a warm up activity with the audience.

He stated some of the important things to manage our time like:

- To write your goals in a paper so that your mind will make a track towards achieving it.
- Don't waste your time in finding shortcuts, when information is already available over the internet. Take advantage of that information to manage your time.
- Use reminders application in your phone in case you forget your to do list tasks.
- Make support groups like in WhatsApp and send daily deliverables on it in order to follow those.
- He gave many examples through different activities performed by students to make the audience understand time management.

Finally, he concluded that we can't manage time, or we can't control time instead we can manage our schedule under that time. When people push us, we are able to complete our task on time. First, we will have to manage ourselves and our working lifestyle, then only we will be able to manage time.
