The speaker briefed the students about the adoption and enactment of the Constitution. She also gave insights about different facets of Fundamental Rights & Duties and certain legal concepts related to it.

The session proved to be interactive and engaging for the students. This was an indeed important session for the students as the awareness about rights and duties can help a person cope through unjust situations and help the citizens grow into good humans and better citizens. It was an important concept which should be discussed with not just journalism students but with each and every citizen of the nation.
